North Carolina Preservation Consortium

Adapting to a New Reality:
How Cultural Institutions Are Responding to COVID-19
November 5, 2021 - 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.
Virtual Zoom Conference

Thank you to the Society of North Carolina Archivists, the North Carolina Museums Council, and Hollinger Metal Edge for their sponsorship of the NCPC Annual Conference.

Program

9:00 a.m. Welcome

Morning sessions: How COVID-19 impacted services and work for cultural heritage institutions

- Session 1: Silver Linings: Reference and Instruction in Academic Archives during COVID-19 (Leah Tams, Accessions Coordinator, Rubenstein Rare Book & Manuscript Library, Duke University, and also Librarian, North Carolina Collection, Durham County Library)

- Break

- Session 2: All Hands on Deck at Duke Libraries' Digital Production Center (Giao Luong Baker, Digital Production Services Manager, and Jen Jordan, Library Intern, Duke University Libraries Digital Production Center)

- Panel Q & A with audience questions for Sessions 1 & 2

- Updates and announcements

12:00 p.m. Lunch break

1:00 p.m. Afternoon overview

Afternoon sessions: Collecting and preserving resources about COVID-19's impact

- Session 3: Preserving COVID-19-Related Institutional Records at Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary (Jonathan Lawler, Archivist and Digital Collections Manager, Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary)

- Break

- Session 4: Documenting COVID-19 in Eastern North Carolina (Alston Cobourn, University Archivist, Jennifer Daugherty, North Carolina Collection Librarian, and Jo Overstreet, Outreach and Instruction Librarian for Special Collections, East Carolina University)

- Panel Q & A with audience questions for Sessions 3 & 4

- 2021 NCPC awards presentations

- Closing remarks

4:00 p.m. Adjourn